

You are warmly invited to a poetry reading to launch

The Watchful Heart

– an anthology of poems and prose written by participants in the Inner Room and published by the Parish of Central Exeter –

1pm, Thursday, October 7th, 2021

St Stephen's Church, High Street, Exeter

Doors open at 12.30 and you will be asked to observe our usual COVID precautions such as masks and social distancing. Numbers are limited so do please email us if you're hoping to come: innerroom@parishofcentralexeter.co.uk

Inner Room is a project that creates space for people to be creative, run by the poet Helen Evans with the backing of the Inner Room team. Launched in 2020, just days before the first Covid-19 lockdown, the project quickly moved online, offering 34 creative readers and creative writers of poetry more than 100 events in its first year. The fruits of some of their hard work can be seen in The Watchful Heart. For more details of Inner Room, a pioneer lay ministry from the Parish of Central Exeter, please see www.innerroom.co.uk and to order a copy of The Watchful Heart (£5 plus P&P) please email innerroom@parishofcentralexeter.co.uk